Safe Deposit Boxes

WE HAVE A FEW MORE BOXES in our Safe Deposit Vault which are not yet rented. There are four sizes, varying in price from $12 to $30 per year. Any private papers left in these boxes are perfectly safe, as the vaults are fire-proof and are fitted with time locks, which makes them absolutely burglar-proof. There are two keys to each box, both of which are given to the party renting box, and should these keys be stolen they would be useless to bearer, as he could not open the box without our master-key being first inserted.

Parties leaving the Islands for their summer vacations will find it a convenient place to leave any valuables.
Boxes can be rented by the month or year as desired. Apply to

GEORGE H. ROBERTSON,

Receiver.

Office with C. Brewer &amp; Co.

Honolulu, July 28th, 1896.

AT THE GAZETTE OFFICE.

M. S. LEVY FOUND
RESTING AT KALIHU.Went Out on Monday to Avoid
His Creditors.

HE WAS MUCH WROUGHT UP.

Business Affairs in a Tangle He Could Not Unravel—Could Not Stand Competition—Brought Back by Policemen and Sent Home.

One of the mysteries of the year is chant who has been conducting a small the disappearance of M. S. Levy, a mer-business on Fort street, next to Lewis & Co., for the past three years. It has been known for a year that his business was falling off and that it was only a question of time when he would give way to the competition in his lines.
Last fall he made a chattel mortgage on his entire stock in favor of Theo.
H. Davies & Co. for $2,000, which will probably cover the amount of his indebtedness to that firm. Among his other creditors are several jobbers in town. He has no outside debts.

Whatever his debts may amount to have been contracted since he began business for himself a few years ago.
Prior to that time he was with his brother-in-law, S. Ehrlich, when the latter was conducting the Temple of Fashion at the corner of Hotel and Fort.
Levy's wife is Ehrlich's sister, and she has helped him in the store since he began business. Levy is a man with no extravagant habits, and his losses have accrued in a legitimate business way.

Mrs. Levy was spoken to regarding her husband, and said she had heard nothing from him; she merely knew that he stayed away from home Monday night, but she was ignorant as to his whereabouts.

At 6:55 p. m., just about the time the reporter was in conversation with Mrs. Levy, Harry Cannon of the Palama grocery reported to the police having seen Levy in his store in the morning and that he was on his way by bus to Moanalua. Cannon said Levy talked with him for twenty minutes.
At 7:20 p. m. the bookkeeper of the Kalihui Fertilizer Works reported that Levy was at his house in Kalihi, and that he had called there Monday afternoon. This message was received over the telephone, and at the time it was sent Levy was sitting on a lounge on the veranda.

The matter was reported at once to the Deputy Marshal, who had Officer Logan and Mounted Patrolman Foster in a hack to J. F. Hagen's home in Kalihi.

Upon arrival, at about 7:45 o'clock, Levy was found lying on the lounge on the veranda.

Patrolman Foster accosted him and told him that the Marshal wanted to see him. At this Levy exclaimed, "My God!" and then sighed.

He was put in the hack and had got but a little distance when he said: "It is too bad to be arrested. Fear made me do it—made me run away."

The question was asked him, "What do you fear?" whereupon Levy answered, "I never robbed anybody; I have always been fair and square in my dealings."

Upon coming to the electric lights Levy would shrink back in the seat as if afraid of being seen.

In an interview with Mr. Levy upon arrival at the police station he remarked that his debts had caused his action.

The Marshal gave orders that he should be taken to his home, and upon the arrival of Messrs. Podyn and Fishel this was done.

PROPOSED BEACH HOTEL.

Plans to Transform the Peacock Premises Into Tourist Resort.

Thomas E. Krouse has filed an application with the Minister of the Interior for a license to sell wines and liquors in the handsome premises of W. C.
Peacock, on the beach next to Long Branch.

In his application Mr. Krouse sets forth the fact that there is but a limited number of private residences in the vicinity of the proposed hotel, as well as the fact that such a place is greatly in demand by residents and tourists, and that a hotel suited to the wants of the people would not be conducted except at a loss without including the selling of such liquors as the public insists upon having. He agrees, also, in view of his receiving such license, to improve the already handsome place to the extent of nearly $12,000.

Mr. Krouse had his application returned by the Minister of the Interior yesterday, with a letter informing him that "for the present the Government did not feel like changing the limits for the sale of spirituous liquors."

With this ends the probability, for a long time at least, of the people having first class hotel accommodations at the beach. In a conversation with a reporter for the Advertiser yesterday Mr. Krouse expressed himself as being much disappointed with the turn affairs have taken.

"I contemplated putting on some improvements," he said, "which would have made the place an ideal spot, but it is useless to attempt the conduct of such a hotel without having a license to sell wines. I might sell them sub-rosa, but that is not a satisfactory way of doing business. When a gentleman wants a glass of wine with his meals he relishes it more if he does not have a dread that he will be taken into the police court next day as a witness against the man who sold it to him. I don't care to do that sort of business.

I want to conduct the hotel in a way that would advertise the country, but tourists would not speak well of the hotel, or indeed the town, if he found it conducted on temperance or illicit principles.

"The improvements to the place would have been extensive, and plans have already been drawn and estimates furnished. I proposed building a bath house of twenty rooms and an office. The floors would be tiled and the details would be perfect as to finish and convenience of the guests. This building would have been on the Diamond Head end of the lot. Opposite to and really an entrance to the pier would have been an octagonal pavilion, 40x40.
All structures on the McCully premises would be torn down and replaced by four new two-story buildings with most modern improvements. One of these cottages would have private rooms and billiard hall on the lower floor and eight sleeping rooms up stairs; so that in all, including those in the main hall, there would be thirty-three sleeping rooms.

"I regret not being able to carry the scheme through for more reasons than one. I am satisfied it would have been a good thing for the Islands, and the location is the only one obtainable.
Sans Souci must soon go out of existence as a hotel, as the present owners will occupy it as a private dwelling as soon as the lease of the present occupants expires, a few months hence.

PAPERS and COMPOUNDS

The base of P. & B. PAINT is a mineral which is practically INDESTRUCTIBLE, while the solvent is one of the HEAVIEST and most penetrating LIQUIDS known. This combination, the result of many years' experiment and research, contains therefore, the very essentials of a perfect preservative coating for all substances, viz:

Penetration and Indestructibility.

Neither salt nor fresh water, alkali nor acid solutions, make any impression on surfaces coated with this paint.

No. 1 P. & B. PAINT is the thinnest and is used where penetration is preferred to a surface coating. It dries rapidly leaving a coating equal to that of one coat of good metallic paint. A gallon covers from 300 to 400 square feet of smooth surface.

No. 2 P. & B. PAINT is medium heavy and is the STANDARD grade for all purposes. It penetrates deeply and leaves a coat equal to two or three coats of good metallic paint. It is of especial value for roofs, iron work, pipes, tanks, barrels, etc. A gallon covers from 200 to 300 square feet of smooth surface.

No. 3 P. & B. PAINT is a heavy paint of good penetrating quality. It dries readily and leaves a protecting coating equal to four or five coats of good metallic paint. It is the paint to use on fence posts, telegraph poles, conduits, submerged timber, piles, etc., and wherever special surface protection is required. A gallon covers about 150 to 200 square feet of surface.

ROOF PAINT is an ideal paint for this special purpose and comes in RED and BROWN COLORS, although its first cost is more than other preparations, its durability makes it the cheapest in the end and it has such great FIRE RE-SISTING QUALITIES as to be virtually fire-proof.

P. & B. PAPERS. These are positively water-proof and vermin proof, also impermeable to heat or cold. In hot climates every house should be lined (especially the ceilings) with the paper; the cheaper grades are unexcelled for lining for house matings. They are perfectly odorless and are incapable of receiving odor.
